

An Analysis of Medicaid Expansion in Pennsylvania

May 13, 2013

Based on new information received after the release of its original report on Medicaid expansion, the Independent Fiscal Office has published a revision. The revised report incorporates (1) a modest reduction in the projected cost savings, (2) an increase in federal funds derived from the gross receipts tax mechanism and (3) the reformatting of tables to provide separate totals with and without additional federal funds associated with the gross receipts tax. The final change reflects the uncertainty regarding those additional federal funds. Please refer to the note at the front of the report for a brief description of the changes.
